

Senior Leadership

MARK SCHERSCHLIGT

Vice President, Finance
Security & Survivability

Mark Scherschligt is Vice President of Finance for Security & Survivability, BAE Systems. Mark is responsible for the management of all finance related activities. Prior to this position, Mark was the Vice President of Finance/Business Administration for Armament Systems.

Mark has more than 30 years of accounting and business finance-related experience. He joined Armament Systems in 2005. Prior to his role as VP of Finance/Business Administration of Armament Systems, Mark was the Chief Financial Officer of joint ventures at FNSS in Ankara, Turkey and United Defense Systems in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia. He has also worked in Aberdeen, South Dakota and Cedar Rapids, Iowa facilities. He started his career in the accounting department for FMC Construction Equipment Group in Cedar Rapids, Iowa

Mark received his Bachelors degree form the University of South Dakota in Accounting and Business Management.

Mark and his wife Karen have three children and two grandchildren.